Meet with Maung Maung Tinn

Artist and Educator from Burma (Myanmar)

Illustrator of Born Free and Equal Children's Book

Humanitarian Advocate for Children in Conflict Zones

Friday evening, December 10th on Zoom

USA: 5:30pm PST / 6:30pm MST / 7:30pm CST / 8:30pm EST

Thailand: 8:30am (Dec.11)

Celebrate International Human Rights Day with us

The Born Free and Equal Book is being distributed by Thai Christian Foundation (TCF)/ Pan Rak Foundation to school children and teachers in the Burma Hills.

As Maung Maung Tinn visits schools to teach children their universal human rights, he guides them to creatively sketch out their ideas.

Now we are inviting YOU to bring your colored pencils, water colors, art supplies to this event for a brief interactive illustration session to explore YOUR ideas about human rights.

A simple template to use will be provided to those who register below.

Meet the Panel:

Laurie Eubank Dawson, TCF Director/Pan Rak Co-Executive Director
Dr. Rosey Hunter, Dean of Leadership Studies, Gonzaga University and Social Work Educator

A short Thai dance by a Christian Communication Institute (CCI) performer will start the event.

If you had only one question you could ask Maung Maung Tinn,
What would you ask?
Send in your questions by Nov 30 by clicking HERE

The book with more than 30 full color plates makes a beautiful Christmas gift. To receive it in time for the book event, purchase it now by emailing info@thaichristianfoundation.org
